Section I

Field Service Regulations, Field Manuals, and Technical Manuals

1. SCOPE. This manual contains numerical lists and references to lists of publications or matter required for military training, and an alphabetical list of Field and Technical Manuals.

2. TEXTS. The primary texts for training in schools, including extension courses, in garrisons, in training centers, and in the field are War Department training publications issued, as a general rule, in the form of Field Service Regulations, Field Manuals, and Technical Manuals. Technical Regulations will eventually be eliminated by the inclusion of suitable material in other training documents.

a. Field Service Regulations, which are published as Field Manuals, constitute the basis of instruction of all arms and services in the operations of war and announce the basic doctrines which are expanded and applied in other texts. They contain the fundamental considerations concerning the employment of the combined arms and the combined services, and the strategical, tactical, and administrative employment of larger units and territorial commands.

b. Field Manuals constitute the primary means for expanding the basic doctrines of Field Service Regulations. They are published in three general divisions as follows:

(1) Field Manuals for the several arms and services contain instructions relative to the tactics and technique involved in the employment of such arms and services, together with data needed in the theater of operations.

(2) Basic Field Manuals contain training and reference data applicable to more than one arm or service, with special reference to the smaller units.

(3) Staff Officers' Field Manual is a compilation of information and data to be used as a guide for the operations in the field of the general staff or a similar staff group of all units in peace and war.

c. Technical Manuals consist of a series of pamphlets supplementing the Field Manuals, covering subjects the separate treatment of which is considered essential to a fuller accomplishment of the training prescribed in the Field Manual series. The scope of this series includes pamphlets describing matériel and containing instructions for the operation, care, and handling thereof; guide-books for instructors and specialists; material for extension courses; reference books; etc.

3. NUMBERING. The number of each pamphlet will consist of two parts: the basic number and subnumber.

a. The basic number will be as follows:

2. Cavalry.
3. Chemical Warfare Service.
4. Coast Artillery Corps.

TM 9-1900 to TM 9-1999—Ammunition items of all types and their components.

4. CHANGES. In order that prompt recommendations may be submitted, each agency charged with the preparation of a manual will keep a folder of suggested changes. Serious errors will be reported at once.

a. How effected. When the subject matter contained in a pamphlet is changed or corrected, it will be published as a change only when it is deemed advisable to revise and reprint the entire pamphlet.

b. When promulgated. Changes will, as a general rule, be published as soon as practicable after the necessity for a change arises. The number and date of the change will follow the classification number at the end of each paragraph.

c. How published. (1) When printed separately, changes will be published on one side of the page only (in page size slightly less than trimmed size of manual) so that they may be cut and pasted over the matter which they change. Exceptions may be made where changes consist of eight or more pages of a change (or series of changes); in such instances, changes may be printed on both sides of the page and in consecutive page sequence.

(2) Whenever a manual is reprinted, all changes previously published separately will be published by adding all such changes printed on both sides of the page, in sequence as changes were numbered upon original issuance, at the back of the reprinted manual following the last printed page of the manual.

(3) Whenever changes are published in a manual as described in (2) above, the following statement will appear on the title and cover pages of such reprinted manual (in addition to the title of manual and original date of publication):

NOTE. This is not a revision. This manual contains only C 1, (date); C 2, (date); etc., to the (date of manual) edition placed at the back following the original text, and will not be issued to individuals possessing that edition.

d. How numbered. Changes will be numbered in a single series for each edition of each pamphlet, a new series being started with the first changes pertaining to an edition.

e. Drafts. Drafts of matter submitted for publication as changes will contain both the existing and the proposed matter, the matter to be omitted, with a line drawn through it and the proposed matter underscored.

f. Minor changes. Minor changes, such as those intended merely to change the rhetorical construction of a portion of a publication for purposes of clarity or those not involving a change of doctrine, will be allowed to accumulate and will be published in a revision of the publication in question.

g. Changes affecting other publications. When changes are prepared which may affect other War Department publications or portions thereof to the extent of requiring modifications of the latter, changes to the other publications so affected will be prepared and submitted at the same time.

5. COPYRIGHTED MATTER. See AR 310-10.

26. TRAINING PUBLICATIONS. a. General. (1)

The lists below show the pamphlets published to date, by number, title, and date of publication, the number of the changes thereto, together with symbols indicating the distribution of each pamphlet.

(2) Explanation of symbols. A combination of letters indicating the headquarters of organizations, and numbers indicating the specific arms or services to which the distribution is limited, is used. The meanings of these are as follows:

(a) Letters. (See also (d) and (e) below.)

D.—Headquarters of divisions. If more than two copies are issued, see paragraph 9a(2)(b).

B.—Headquarters of brigades, groups, and similar organizations. When the letter “B” is not indicated in the distribution symbols, headquarters of groups will receive the distribution indicated by the “R” symbols.

R.—Headquarters of regiments, separate battalions, and similar organizations. When the letter “R” is not indicated in the distribution symbols, headquarters of separate battalions will receive the distribution indicated by the “Bn” symbols.

Bn.—Headquarters of battalions or similar organizations.

C.—Headquarters of companies and similar units.

I.—Used in combination with the above letters indicates the pamphlet is to be issued to interested organizations only.

H or L.—H used in combination with the above letters indicates that the pamphlet will be issued to the particular organization specified and higher headquarters; L to particular organization specified and lower headquarters.

X.—Special distribution as directed by the War Department.
